

ORCHESTRATION LICENSE REQUEST

Beckenhorst Press, Inc. or The Music of Dan Forrest

This license allows you to create instrumental ensemble versions of, or accompaniments for, our music (i.e. string quartets, brass ensembles, string orchestra, chamber orchestra, wind band, full orchestra) for your own use. Note: If merely adding a single instrument part (i.e. creating a solo instrument obbligato part, organ part, etc.), please use the Adaptation License instead.

- Your orchestration will be considered a “work for hire”, and as such, the publisher retains all rights and control of your work created under terms of this license. This license does NOT grant permission for any sharing or distribution of your instrumentation/orchestration, in print, audio/visual recording, broadcast, etc. Any of these uses requires a separate license request (print, mechanical/sync, broadcast, etc.) Please note, mechanical license income for a derivative work, per standard industry policy, is collected by the original copyright holder, not the arranger, unless an exception is made; and a print license request may or may not be granted (we may choose to publish instead, or not to allow publication.) If a print license is granted, the publication must clearly state the title and composer of the original choral version.
- Once completed, a single copy of your score must be sent to our office, for our files.

The fee for an Orchestration License, if granted, is $80, which includes permission to create/print material for your own use only. To request an Orchestration license, please fill in the requested information below, and send a copy to licensing@beckenhorstpress.com:

We will review your request, and reply either with permission and details for payment, or with details on other available options (i.e. if we already offer a similar product, or if we have a similar product that has already been licensed and created, that may be available for your use.)

Reminder: a single copy of your newly created score must be sent to our office, for our files.

Any listing of the work in a program or bulletin should include “Orchestration made with permission of (insert publisher name: Beckenhorst Press, or The Music of Dan Forrest)”

Terms and Conditions, in effect once the license request is approved and paid:

This agreement is made in good faith and collaboration as musicians and professionals, between the publishers represented herein (Beckenhorst Press, or The Music of Dan Forrest), and the person/entity applying for the license (“licensee”). All licenses are non-exclusive, and may not be transferred, shared, or sub-leased to any third party. The publishers represented herein have asserted their rights for worldwide usage of their copyrighted work, and reserve the right to revoke or terminate a license if its usage represents them, the composer, or the work in a way that does not align with or accurately represent the purposes/intents of the artist’s work. The publishers reserve the right to examine the licensee’s books/records pertaining to this license, if necessary, with 14 days’ notice. If licensee fails to abide by the terms of this license, provide required accounting, or make payments, the publisher may provide written notice of intent to terminate/revoke this license, and if the default is not remedied within 30 days, the license will be revoked/terminated, and any continuation of any previously licensed activities will be actionable as acts of infringement against the United States Copyright Act. The Licensee is not legally or financially responsible for any copyright claims, damages, costs, or expenses, including attorney fees, for any copyright claim made against the publisher for the original work being licensed. Similarly, the publisher is not legally or financially responsible for any copyright claims, damages, costs, or expenses, including attorney fees, for any copyright claim made against any work created under terms of this license.
